PASSION (PALM) SUNDAY A

LIVE THE WHOLE HOLY WEEK WHOLLY

Holy Week

- We're not just celebrating another Sunday and returning to work on Monday.
- The minimum is Palm Sunday, then Easter Sunday, but this week is the most liturgically packed time of the year, especially starting on Holy Thursday.

- Consider attending at least one liturgy beyond the ones that are obligatory: why not the Commemoration of the Lord's Passion on Good Friday, the Evening Mass of the Lord's Supper, or the Easter Vigil instead of Mass during the day on Easter Sunday?
 - You can live each day and moment of Holy Week amidst your day to day chores and occupations even if you can't attend additional liturgies.
 - Consider Our Lord's last few days in Jerusalem or Judas going out to betray him (Monday through Thursday morning)
 - Consider the institution of the Priesthood and the Eucharist, and Jesus' commandment to love (Thursday evening).
 - Consider Gethsemane and his capture (late Thursday evening).
 - Stand at his side when he is facing Pilate, or at the foot of his Cross at Calvary (Friday), sit with him in the tomb, or go to wherever Mary or one of the disciples (late Friday through Saturday) is suffering in silence and solitude and speak with them.
- Whether you attend the liturgies or take time out throughout the week, spend it with Our Lord. (E-Priest.com)
